

Nations International Team Building - Case study 2018

| | |
|-------------------------|---|
| Business case | Nations was approached and subsequently chosen by a large German group to develop, prepare and deliver the following high-value training: Team Building, Soft Skills Training and Intercultural Preparation through English |
| Business problem | Non-optimal communication between international managers and specialists within this international group |
| Chosen solution | Combine English and Soft Skills training with International Team Building in Nations Ireland |
| Population | 70+ managers and specialists from Germany, France, Poland, Netherlands. |
| Training Format | 1 or 2 weeks in mixed nationality groups combining individual, closed group training and workshops |
| Location | Nations Ireland's Training Centre in Cork |
| Timeframe | Contract awarded November 2018 with Project go Live and full telephone interviewing of candidates complete by Jan 2018. Start date for training March 2018 and end date for completion of training October 2018 |

Factors influencing selection of Nations as Training Provider

- Third party endorsement from existing Nations client
- Nations' proposed training approach and solution
- Ireland as a neutral, off-site location
- Nations concept of service

What makes Nations different for your international team building needs?

Individuals and teams on a Nations programme will find a neutral, comfortable, professional and pleasant environment, ideal for working together and opening channels of communication in English while building stronger working relationships.

Testimonial from French participant sent to board of directors (this participant participated on the programme in May 2018):

“Back from 2 weeks in an intensive English training in Ireland, I would like to thank Nations and (client company name) for this initiative. This session was an amazing opportunity to improve my English, share some experiences with German and Polish colleagues and discover Ireland. I really made some good progress in speaking with Nations and my “new (client company) friends”.

Nations 40 years’ experience in similar programmes and its capacity to take the project from understanding the business need through all stages from conception, planning, on-boarding to delivery means that Nations can help you realise your vision.

Thank you for your interest,

Ivan Kearns
Founder/Director

